The Hagg 46 is a timeless classic with a modern twist: a robust, elegant motor yacht built for adventure, comfort and style. Designed by the legendary Arthur Ernest Hagg (1888–1985), a respected 20th-century yacht designer, and built by Randall & McGregor in 1967, this vessel combines old-school craftsmanship with the power and reliability of modern technology. Hagg, known for his innovative and functional designs, stood for boats that were not only beautiful but also performed excellently at sea. His designs, such as the Hagg 46, are still valued for their seaworthiness, balance and timeless elegance.
With a V-bottom and cold moulded construction – thin mahogany strips laid crosswise, glued with resorcinol glue and saturated with jute – the hull is not only strong but also resistant to the elements. This construction method was revolutionary in its time and still provides a lightweight yet robust structure that is perfect for both calm and challenging waters.
With a length of 14.80 metres and a beam of 3.55 metres, the Hagg 46 offers generous living and sleeping accommodation. The interior is fitted with 3 cabins and 6 berths (+1 extra), a cosy saloon, and a functional galley with a 3-burner gas hob, oven and refrigerator. The Eberspächer heating provides warmth on colder days, while the headroom of 1.95 metres allows comfortable standing and moving about.
Under the engine cover are two Perkins Sabre M225 Ti engines (225 hp each, built 2006) with only 1,200 engine hours, coupled to a V-drive and Hurth ZF63C reverse gears. With a cruising speed of 13 knots and a top speed of 19 knots, this vessel is not only fast but also economical: fuel consumption is between 5 and 20 litres per hour per engine. The Fisher Panda 4500 generator and Victron Multiplus inverter ensure a reliable power supply, wherever you are.
The Hagg 46 is equipped with modern navigation and safety systems, including a Raymarine ST60 (depth sounder, speedometer, speed log and autopilot), a Sailor RT2048 VHF radio, and a Trilens radar reflector. The electric Lofrans anchor windlass, bathing ladder and bimini top make life on board even easier. With an air draught of 3.65 metres and twin steering, this vessel is perfect for both coastal cruising and long-distance voyages.
Whether you are looking for a fast pleasure cruiser, a family holiday boat, or a partly live-aboard vessel, the Hagg 46 offers it all. With its rugged appearance, green-blue/grey hull colour and timeless elegance, this is a boat that stands out – and stays with you. As a true Hagg, this yacht carries the legacy of a designer who strove for perfection in form and function.
