Description

Delivered in 2023 by Nautitech to a Marc Lombard design, GAIA is a Nautitech 40 Open in the three-cabin owner’s version, well known for her seakeeping, comfortable living space and sailing performance.
Ordered new with an outstanding level of equipment: Comfort version, 2 x 50 hp engines, Hydranet square-top sails, B&G Pack Nav Advanced electronics with radar, 600 Ah Victron lithium bank, 1,200 W of solar, water maker, Starlink… over €190,000 excl. VAT of options and additional equipment.
Nautitech’s “Open” concept creates a true continuity between cockpit and saloon, giving easy circulation, excellent natural ventilation and a panoramic view outside. The aft helm stations deliver the lively, responsive feel that sailors looking for a performance catamaran appreciate. It is also more sociable for the skipper, who stays with the crew while keeping full control of the boat.
With a hull signed by Marc Lombard, who had one built for himself, the Nautitech 40 Open is particularly reassuring at sea and performs well both upwind and downwind.
