Description

TUGELA I embodies the timeless excellence of the NAUTOR SWAN shipyard, renowned worldwide for the flawless quality of its yachts. This Swan 77, designed by the legendary naval architect German Frers, combines classic elegance with modern technology, delivering an exceptional sailing experience.

Built in 2003 and meticulously maintained, TUGELA I is currently based in Marseille, France, and sails under the Maltese flag. This 24-meter sailing yacht stands out for its harmonious lines and sporty look, never going unnoticed whether at anchor or under sail. Constructed in composite with a teak deck, she features a sleek blue hull and refined white superstructure.

On board, comfort is paramount. The interior is spacious, bright, and designed to accommodate up to 8 guests in 4 cabins. The owner's cabin, located aft, includes a central double bed and sofas on either side. Three additional guest cabins, each fitted with Pullman berths, offer flexibility and privacy. A large saloon with two lounge areas, a fully equipped galley, and a well-appointed navigation station complete the interior layout.

For leisure, TUGELA I comes with a wide array of water toys and equipment, including wakeboard, water skis, paddle boards, snorkeling gear, and fishing equipment. She is also equipped with a 4.50 m Avon tender powered by a 60 HP YAMAHA engine, as well as a high-quality audio/video system and onboard Wi-Fi.

TUGELA I is far more than just a yacht – she is an invitation to travel in total freedom, absolute comfort, and with an unmistakable sense of style.
