Description

Vindø 50 – a rare classic with soul and history

The Vindø 50 is not just a boat – it is a piece of living Scandinavian boatbuilding heritage, created in an era when quality, craftsmanship, and aesthetics went hand in hand. These boats rarely appear on the market, and when they do, they often carry stories of countless nautical miles and unforgettable experiences.

With its elegant appearance, classic lines, and beautiful woodwork in mahogany and teak, the boat radiates warmth and authenticity. Stepping on board, you are welcomed by a calm maritime atmosphere – as if time slows down, and every detail tells its own story.

The solid long keel and strong fiberglass hull provide a safe and stable sailing experience, where the boat seems to find its own rhythm through the waves. This is not a boat in a hurry – instead, it rewards its crew with comfort, safety, and a unique sense of connection to the sea.

The interior is thoughtfully designed with both community and privacy in mind. There is space for guests, peaceful mornings in harbor, and long evenings at anchor as the sun sets on the horizon. The Vindø 50 creates the perfect setting for both adventure and reflection – whether cruising along the coast or embarking on longer journeys across the North Sea and the Baltic Sea.

The boat is well maintained and professionally cared for, further highlighting its quality and timeless character.

A rare opportunity for the discerning sailor who is not just looking for a boat – but for an experience, an atmosphere, and a piece of maritime history ready for new adventures.
